DMS International Announces Riverine Training Continuum Contract Award

Instructional Support Services for the U.S. Navy, Center for Security Forces (CENSECFOR)

Silver Spring, MD 7/26/2011: DMS International announced today it was awarded a multi-million dollar contract by the Department of the Navy. The contract will support the Navy's Riverine Training Continuum (RTC) program. All instructional, operational, and administrative tasks will be delivered through formalized training for personnel in various units within the Navy Expeditionary Combat Command (NECC). All training is in support of the formal RTC course curriculum as developed and provided by CENSECFOR, and will be delivered under the coordination of the respective CENSECFOR Learning Site Director and CENSECFOR Course Managers. Under the contract, DMS will provide specialized Riverine Instructor-led Training at Learning Site Camp Lejeune, NC. The single-award contract has a one-year base period of performance and two one-year option periods.

CENSECFOR provides training and human performance solutions to Navy Expeditionary, Security, and Anti-terrorism professionals to meet the needs of the Fleet. CENSECFOR's primary customers are personnel serving in the Master-at-Arms (MA) Rating, Sailors assigned in an anti-terrorism role, the Navy Security Officer communities, and the NECC. The Center trains Navy personnel worldwide in security and anti-terrorism measures and procedures.

DMS' highly-qualified and skilled instructors are experienced in Riverine tactics techniques and procedures. Our winning solutions provide clients with highly-qualified instructional specialists with real-world, in theatre experience to successfully execute mission critical projects and programs.

"DMS is pleased to continue supporting CENSECFOR to help the Naval Service in its mission to train and prepare military personnel who go into harm's way," said Magdalah R. Silva, DMS President & Chief Executive Officer.
